DEPARTMENT OF HUMAN SERVICES GRADUATE STUDENT PROFESSIONAL DISPOSITIONS

In addition to ensuring students have obtained the knowledge and skills to become professional counselors, as indicated by the successful completion of graduate coursework and measured by identified key performance indicators, the department faculty/staff/advisors have an ongoing responsibility to assess each student’s professional dispositions throughout the program (CACREP, 2016). CACREP, the department’s accrediting body, requires an assessment of students’ professional dispositions. Professional dispositions encompass a student’s attitudes, values, and professional ethics exhibited through verbal and non-verbal interactions with peers, clients, supervisors, and department faculty and staff. The key professional dispositions assessed are aligned with the five guiding principles of ethical practice as professional counselors: autonomy, beneficence, non-maleficence, justice, and fidelity.

To demonstrate professional readiness to enter the field and, therefore, be eligible for graduation, students must receive a rating of “meets expectations” in the following areas.

KEY PROFESSIONAL DISPOSITIONS

1) Professional Ethics
2) Communication
3) Respect for Others
4) Diversity & Multicultural Awareness
5) Problem Resolution
6) Use of Feedback
7) Expression of Emotions
8) Professional Appearance
9) Work Ethic

EVALUATION PROCESS

In addition to assessment by Department faculty throughout course instruction, Department faculty will formally evaluate students’ professional dispositions at the following three points during the program:

<thead>
<tr>

<th>By Whom</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>First Evaluation: Admission into program</td>
<td>Program faculty</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
| • Inform and teach professional dispositions during orientation, advising and/or seminar | }
Second Evaluation: Pre-Clinical before the Practicum course.
Failure to “meet expectations” in more than two areas during the second evaluation will warrant a “concern conference”. Recommendations for regular admission will be made at that time.
Possible Recommendations
- Review of professional dispositions, procedures, and documents
- Student meets with Advisor to revise Emotional Intelligence assessment taken in CNL7230 Assessment in Counseling
- The department recommends student be admitted into program
- The department recommends student be allowed to continue with conditional admission (Remediation plan)
- The department recommends student be denied full admission into program

Third Evaluation (Program faculty):
Following the completion of practicum-Clinical Failure to “meet expectations” in one or more areas during the third evaluation will warrant a “concern conference.” Recommendations for program advancement will be made at that time.
Possible Recommendations
- The department recommends student be allowed to advance in program
- The department recommends student be allowed to advance in program with conditions (Remediation plan)
- The department recommends student be denied advancement in program

Department faculty’s formal evaluation of students’ professional dispositions will be evaluated using the following scale and rubric:

STUDENT ADVISEMENT CHECKLIST

PROGRAM OF STUDY
The program of study is a defined program, which is contracted between a student and an academic Department offering a program. The institution specifically indicated that it will award the degree sought by the student if the work stipulated in the Program of Study is satisfactorily completed. Similarly, students specifically agree to the responsibility for completing the program as stipulated in their Programs of Study.
Programs of Study should be consistent with published curricula and degree requirements.
Procedure:

- Program of Study forms are available from the graduate program advisors.
- The form is completed with careful planning between the student and the advisor.
- The completed form is signed by the student and advisor and approved by the graduate program officer or department chair.
- An electronic copy of the completed form, with signatures, is sent to the School of Graduate Studies where the form will be filed in the student's academic folder. The Program of Study will be used to certify the student for graduation, guide decisions on graduate student academic petitions, process requests for transfer credit, and issue tuition remissions for graduate assistants. Consequently, these actions will not be processed without a current and/or amended program of study on file.
- The form should be prepared as early as possible in the student's program, preferably no later than the end of the second semester. Each student will have an opportunity to review a Program of Study at the New Student Orientation with a graduate advisor.
- Once the Program of Study has been approved, a student may make changes to it only if the changes still meet the program requirements and are approved by the advisor and graduate program officer. Students should consult the program for the procedure for initiating such changes.

A copy of the revised Program of Study should be sent to the School of Graduate Studies. Graduate programs are cautioned that when changes to the Program of Study are necessitated as the result of deletions from the course inventory or changes in program requirements, students should be given sufficient notification of the change so as to allow them to finish their program requirements as planned. When this is not possible appropriate substitutions must be provided.

TIME LIMIT
Students must complete all requirements for a master's degree within seven (7) years unless the students' specific program has a shorter time limit. The time limit is defined as being from the beginning date of the earliest course taken at WSU applied toward the degree as determined by the program of study. This time does not include a leave of absence granted in advance for adequate cause by the academic program and the Dean of the School of Graduate Studies. Graduate students who fail to complete at least one course in four consecutive semesters will automatically be retired from the active files of the School of Graduate Studies. The term "course" includes formal courses, independent study, thesis research, continuing registration, etc. Reapplication for admission will be required to reactivate the students' records.

WITHDRAWAL FROM COURSES
Students may drop a course without a grade of W appearing on their transcript if the course is dropped by the date specified in the semester class schedule. Students should refer to the semester class schedule of the Registrar's web page at http: www.wright.edu/registrar/ for deadline dates for dropping a class or withdrawing. A student who stops attending a course and, does not officially withdraw through WINGS Express or the Office of the Registrar with receive a grade of F or X at the instructor's discretion. The X grade remains on the student's permanent record and is computed in the grade point average as an F.

COURSE REPEAT
Students may repeat, once, any graduate course previously taken for credit in which the grade received was below a B. Only the hours and grade points earned from the repeated course will be included in the computation of the grade point average and in meeting degree requirements. Students should indicate that they are repeating a course when registering. Repeats are permitted only twice in any master's degree program. For the OCSWMFT Board class list, please refer to the Course Worksheet on their website.
